

FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
For CAMFED CANADA
For year ended
DECEMBER 31, 2022

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the directors of

Opinion

We have audited the financial statement of CAMFED Canada (the CAMFED Canada), which comprise the statement of financial position as at December 31, 2022, and the statements of operations and changes in net assets and cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the CAMFED Canada as at December 31, 2022 and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the CAMFED Canada in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in Canada, and we have fulfilled our ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the CAMFED Canada's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the CAMFED Canada or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the CAMFED Canada's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the CAMFED Canada's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the CAMFED Canada's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the CAMFED Canada to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of presentation

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations.

Revenue recognition

CAMFED Canada follows the deferral method of accounting for contributions. Unrestricted contributions are recognized as revenue when received or receivable if the amount to be received can be reasonably estimated and collection is reasonably assured. Restricted contributions are deferred and recognized as revenue in the year in which the related expenses are recognized. Donations are recognized as revenue when received or receivable if the amount to be received can be reasonably estimated and collection is reasonably assured.

Funds

The financial statements separately disclose the activities of the following funds:

- 1) The Unrestricted Fund comprises amounts available for immediate use for the general purpose of the Entity, received without donor-imposed restrictions.
- 2) The Restricted Fund comprises amounts that are to be used for specific purposes as specified by the donors, the Board of Directors or as stipulated by the funding outlines.

Tangible capital assets

Tangible capital assets are stated at acquisition cost. Amortization is provided using the straight-line method over the following terms:

Furniture and Fixtures	3 years
Computers	3 years
Vehicles	4 years

Foreign currency translation

Revenue and expenses denominated in foreign currencies are translated into Canadian dollars using the average monthly rate, provided by CAMFED International. Monetary items denominated in a foreign currency are translated at the year end rate. Non-momentary items denominated in a foreign currency are translated at rates of exchange in effect when the assets were acquired or obligations incurred. Translation gains and losses are included in the statement of operations and changes in fund balances.

Financial instruments

CAMFED Canada recognizes its financial instruments at fair value and subsequently measures them at each reporting date as follows:

Asset/liability	Measurement
Cash	Fair value
Accounts receivable	Amortized cost
Government remittances receivable	Amortized cost
Accounts payable and accrued liabilities	Amortized cost

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES - Cont'd

Use of estimates

The preparation of CAMFED Canada's financial statements in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations requires management to make estimates and assumptions which affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Significant estimates include determining the useful life of tangible capital assets, the collectibility of amounts receivable and advances to Ghana, and the determination of accrued liabilities. Actual results could differ from these estimates.

Allocation of expenses

The costs of providing the various programs and other activities have been summarized on a functional basis in the Statement of Operations and Changes in Net Assets. The cost of providing these programs and activities includes the costs of personnel, premises and other expenses that are directly related to providing those programs and activities. Expenditures have been charged to programs according to the activity to which they relate or benefit. Expenditures relating to or benefiting more than one program or activity are allocated on a predetermined basis, which management reviews on an ongoing basis. Accordingly, certain costs have been allocated among the programs and activities based on the estimated percentage of time spent by staff on each program.

The continuation of CAMFED Canada is substantially dependent upon the ongoing financial support from CAMFED International and the Mastercard Foundation. In 2022, approximately 1% (2021 - 1%) and 98% (2021 - 97%) of all funding was received from CAMFED International and the Mastercard Foundation, respectively.

CAMFED Canada is also committed to pay operating costs under the terms of the lease.

9. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

CAMFED Canada, through its financial assets and liabilities, has exposure to the following risks from its use of financial instruments: currency risk, credit risk and liquidity risk.

Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk that one party to a financial instrument will default on their financial obligations. CAMFED Canada's maximum exposure to credit risk represents the sum of the carrying value of its cash, accounts receivable, government remittances receivable, and advances to CAMFED Ghana. CAMFED Canada's cash is deposited with a Canadian chartered bank. As a result, management believes the risk of loss on this item to be remote. Management believes the accounts receivable, government remittances receivable, and advances to CAMFED Ghana will be collected and an allowance is not warranted on the amounts due.

YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31, 2022

9. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS - Cont'd.

Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that CAMFED Canada cannot meet a demand for cash or fund its financial obligations as they become due. CAMFED Canada's maximum exposure to liquidity risk represents the sum of the carrying value of its accounts payable and accrued liabilities, and advances from CAMFED International. CAMFED Canada's approach to managing liquidity is to ensure that it will always have sufficient cash flows to fund its operations and to meet its liabilities when due, under both normal and stressed conditions.

Market risk

Market risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices. Market risk is comprised of currency risk, interest rate risk and other price risk.

(i) Currency risk

Currency risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate relative to the Canadian dollar due to changes in foreign exchange rates. CAMFED Canada's financial instruments are all denominated in Canadian dollars. CAMFED Canada receives funding and incurs expenditures in foreign currency denominations and, as such, is exposed to the fluctuations of foreign currencies and the Canadian dollar. The statement of financial position includes the following amounts that are denominated or to be settled in a currency other than the Canadian dollar:

Cash	$1,058,693 CAD	$781,670 USD
Advances to CAMFED Ghana	322,775 CAD	238,316 USD

(ii) Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk refers to the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of financial instruments will fluctuate due to changes in market interest rates. CAMFED Canada's cash earns interest at prevailing market rates and the interest rate exposure related to these financial instruments is negligible. As a result, management does not believe it is exposed to significant interest rate risk.

(iii) Other price risk

Other price risk refers to the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of financial instruments will fluctuate because of changes in market prices (other than those arising from currency risk or interest rate risk), whether those changes are caused by factors specific to the individual instrument, its issuers, or factors affecting all similar instruments traded in the market. CAMFED Canada does not have instruments in publicly traded securities, and therefore management does not believe it is exposed to significant other price risk.

Changes in risk

There have been no significant changes in CAMFED Canada's risk exposure from the prior year.

10. COMPARATIVE FIGURES

Certain comparative figures have been reclassified where necessary to conform to the presentation adopted in the current year.
